

"THE BAYSTATE'S MOST CREATIVE FESTIVAL" -WCVB
APRIL 26 - MAY 5, 2019

For inspiration, read through the following events which range from small to large. You will see that ArtWeek-friendly events have a 'twist': they are interactive, learning-based, behind-the-scenes, and/or provide VIP access. Reach new audiences, test an idea, explore a new partnership, or join in because you want to be part of shining a statewide spotlight on our creative community. See artweekma.org for even more examples!

Allston-Brighton Art & Architecture Bike Tour - $15 event by Unbound Visual Arts

This 11-mile tour celebrated the array of public works and different architectural styles of the neighborhood. After the tour, bikers attended a special exhibit reception.

Brazilian Drum & Dance Parade – Free event by Grooversity and Young Audiences of MA

The drumming ensemble brought the Brazilian street festival experience to the Boston common – an interactive percussion party where everyone was invited.

Kids Really Rock Concert – Free event by Room to Grow, Kids Really Rock and Lawn on D

A free all-day family music and arts festival exposed kids of all ages to messages of kindness, creativity and community through performances, art projects, and community service activities.

Giant Echelman Sculpture Installation – Free event at The Greenway, Boston

Amidst street closings and giant cranes beginning the 14-hour installation process, the Director of Greenway Programs gave an early morning tour and talk as the massive netted sculpture started to be attached to surrounding high rise buildings via these cranes.

Berkshire Plein Air, Making Art Outdoors – $15 event by Guild of Berkshire Artists

Multiple Berkshire artists invited guests to join plein air painting, drawing and photography classes over several themed daily demonstrations at various Western Massachusetts locations.

Stitched Into Memory – Free event by Friends of Fort Point Channel

An artist demonstrated the traditional Adire dye method of the Yoruba people of West Africa. Large textiles were hung outside as part of the demonstration, and observers met with the artist while enjoying traditional West African music and food.

Studios Without Walls/Gateways – Free event part of Brookline Open Studios

Special events for ArtWeek were held in conjunction with the temporary environmental installations like "ranger tours," artist demonstrations, and art treasure hunts.

Trad-Stroll Woods Hole – Free event by ArtsFalmouth

Twelve musical groups of various styles led a music stroll through the village, ending with an old fashion square dance at Community Hall.

Dueling Perspectives – Free event by Vose Galleries and Newbury Street League

Renowned and award-winning artists Don Demers and Liz Haywood-Sullivan painted "en plein air", demonstrating watercolor and pastel mediums, capturing the beauty of Newbury Street and chatting with community members.
